#Senior Software Engineer

Looking for a challenge in building and scaling one of the largest recommendation websites in Europe? Look no further, since that's what you get to do when joining Qype as a Senior Software Engineer.

Over the past 6 years we've built an international, passionate, cross-functional product team consisting of Software Engineers, Site Ops, Search Specialists, Product Managers, QA Managers, Designers, and more. We embrace agile and make fast decisions in flat hierarchies.

Our developers have direct influence on the product and 10% of their time is dedicated to self-chosen work, so that their creative ideas can become a reality. We like to grind the bleeding edge and embrace social coding (we're on GitHub!), and many of us founded or contribute to open-source projects.

Being agile, we build software in (bi-)weekly increments rather than in a monolithic fashion and use modern collaboration tools such as Pivotal, Campfire, Trello, and Skype.

Our modern office loft in central Hamburg close to the harbour and Speicherstadt, provides us a nice surrounding and great metropolitan atmosphere.

As a Senior Software Engineer you will drive the architectural and technical direction of Qype products, leveraging modern software platforms such as Ruby on Rails, Android and iOS.

Besides actively developing our products, you will have first hand influence on what makes Qype tick under the hood, mentor our juniors to reach the level of expertise you bring to the table, as well as have access to the latest mobile phones and tablets.

#About Qype

With our mobile solutions for all leading platforms we support the mobile lifestyle by giving the perfect recommendation for the place to be to our users at any time at any place.
